

A rare George III Caddy Spoon made in Birmingham in 1806 by Matthew Linwood.

Sold

Description

The Caddy Spoon has a most unusual Neo-Classically inspired circular bowl decorated with a raying sunburst design around a circular plain disc. The outer border displays a beaded band on a matted ground and this example has a beautifully detailed cast serpent handle. Similar examples are illustrated on plate 61 of Norie, however none have the sunburst bowl.

Length: 2.45 inches.
