

A very fine set of George IV Hourglass pattern Tablespoons made in London in 1822 by William Eley & William Fearn.

Sold

Description

The Tablespoons are modelled in the hourglass pattern and are double struck. The spoons are of an exceptional gauge and weight and the decoration is very crisp indeed. The bowls are in excellent condition, with thick tips, and display crisp shells on the reverse. Each Spoon is engraved with an Armorial, with the letter R above and all are well marked. These are some of the finest hourglass pattern tablespoons we have offered and they would be wonderful to use for serving on the dining table.

Length: 8.7 inches, 21.75cm.
