

A very fine George IV Vinaigrette made in London in 1826 by William Elliott.

Sold

Description

The Vinaigrette is broad rectangular in form and is unusually engraved all over with diamond motifs containing chequered designs. The cover also shows a crossed branch cartouche containing script initials. The interior is finely gilded and the unusual grille is pierced with an oval containing a floral and foliate spray. The oval is also surrounded by foliate motifs. This piece is in excellent condition and is very well marked.
