

A good George early George II Sparrow Beak Jug made in London in 1729 by William Fordham

Sold

REF: 153705

Height: 3 cm (1.2")

Diameter: 2 cm (0.8")

Description

The Jug stands on a circular spreading foot decorated with reeding and displays an unusual baluster body. This piece has a sparrow beak pouring spout and plain scroll handle. The Jug is in excellent condition, has a good colour and weight and is very well marked in the foot.