CHARLES I. An exceptional Slip Top Spoon made in London in 1639 by Thomas Hodges.

Sold

Mary Cooke Antiques Ltd
12 The Old Power Station, 121 Mortlake High Street, London, SW14 8SN
+44 (0)20 8876 5777

REF: 204913

Description

The Spoon has a fine fig shaped bowl of very good gauge. The hexagonal stem is cut off at an angle and is engraved with a set of contemporary initials. The Spoon has an excellent colour and displays very fine marks, both on the stem and in the bowl. This piece is of a very good gauge and is in excellent condition, a very fine example. Thomas Hodges was apprenticed to the fine Spoon maker Daniel Cary. The Spoon shows the TH conjoined mark of Thomas Hodges, see Jackson page 119.

Length: 6.5 inches

Width of bowl: 1.9 inches.

Mary Cooke Antiques Ltd
12 The Old Power Station, 121 Mortlake High Street, London, SW14 8SN
+44 (0)20 8876 5777