

A George III Wine/Water Ewer made in London in 1775 by John Lambe

Sold

REF: 120765

Description

The Ewer stands on a circular pedestal foot decorated with beading and reeding. The main body is vase shaped in form and displays a beaded band, as does the rim. The domed cover terminates in a Neo-Classical urn finial. This piece has its original wicker covered silver handle. These Jugs are so very useful for water, wine or coffee.

Height: 12.25 inches

Diameter of the main body: 4.6 inches.
