An unusual George III Naturalistic Cream Pail made in London in 1771 by Thomas Pitts I.

£1,350

REF: 374323

Mary Cooke Antiques Ltd
12 The Old Power Station, 121 Mortlake High Street, London, SW14 8SN
+44 (0)20 8876 5777

Description

This unusual piece stands on a circular foot, pierced with scrolls and roundels and displays a corded edge. The baluster, vase shaped, main body has a wavy gadrooned rim and is chased with swirling bands in addition to foliate sprigs and flower heads, a most unusual design. The front of the main body displays a Rococo cartouche engraved with script initials and an arched handle, decorated with a floral spray. The Pail is in quite excellent condition, is very well marked on the foot and displays a blue glass liner.

Height, to the rim: 3 inches, 7.5 cm.
Diameter at the rim: 3.5 inches, 8.75 cm

Mary Cooke Antiques Ltd
12 The Old Power Station, 121 Mortlake High Street, London, SW14 8SN
+44 (0)20 8876 5777