

HESTER BATEMAN. An exceptional George III Stuffing Spoon made in London in 1771 by Hester Bateman

Sold

REF: 374195

Description

This very fine spoon has a curved Old English Pattern stem, which is decorated with a feather edge border. The top of the stem is engraved with a set of contemporary script initials, surrounded by trailing foliate motifs. This example has a very good bowl, with thick tip and a crisp set of hallmarks at the bottom of the stem. The spoon is in excellent condition, with a fine colour.

Length: 11.1 inches, 27.75cm.
