Short Description

---

The Jug is of a circular compressed form with an applied beaded rim. The neck is cast and decorated with a band of trailing vines and grapes on a matted ground. The hinged cover terminates in a plain stylised artichoke finial and the Jug has a fruitwood scroll handle.

The circular lampstand is cast and has three beautiful winged paw legs, below a frieze of raised beads and scrolls. The burner is held in place by a beaded support. This piece is of the finest quality, is in excellent condition, and is well marked on the jug, stand and burner. This type of jug on stand is rare, especially with the unusual decoration.

Joseph Angel was an exceptional maker whose work shows a high standard of design and execution in the Regency taste.

Height: 9 inches, 22.5cm.

Diameter of the stand: 6 inches, 15cm.

Weight: 38oz.
